

Spice Money partners with Israel's Tarya

SPICE MONEY ALONG with Israel-based fintech player Tarya Group will create a lending platform for rural customers in India. The joint venture aims to fill the credit gap in India by offering underserved and underbanked rural India a convenient platform to access credit easily with minimal documentation. This platform will address challenges that have kept rural India financially excluded.